

Pat Chadwick
Wellesley, MA

Pat recently retired from Bloomingdale's after a 40-year career in the retail industry. Her most recent position was senior vice president of concessions and new business development. In that role, Pat was responsible for seeking and discovering business opportunities throughout the global marketplace, and enhancing the Bloomingdale's portfolio. Her responsibilities included contractual negotiation, real estate allocation, marketing strategy and profitability optimization. Pat's previous role at Bloomingdale's was SVP regional vice president for the northeast, developing high performing leadership teams. Pat was an integral member of the Senior Executive Management Committee, and worked on both brand strategy and marketing concepts. In addition, she was a senior leader in Think Tank initiatives focused on organizational structure and profitability optimization. Pat has been involved with Dana Farber Cancer Institute, as both a member of the Susan Smith Cancer Center Visiting Committee and a board member of the Women's Executive Council. She is a board member of Encore Boston Network, working on the campaign launch for Generation to Generation, and was a Fellow at the Advanced Leadership Initiative Program at Harvard University for 2016. Pat is chair of the 2018 GSEMA Scholarship Committee. She received her bachelor's degree from College of the Holy Cross.
