

Cinly M.
Girl Scout Senior

Cinly is a sophomore at Boston Latin School. She competes for her school's debate team and was recognized with the Degree of Superior Distinction by the National Speech and Debate Association. She has amassed a number of other awards, including semifinalist at the Bronx Science Invitational (New York); semifinalist at the Nova Titan Invitational (Florida); Best Delegate (1st place) at the 2019 Boston Latin Model UN Conference; and Honorable Mention (3rd place) at the 19th Annual Boston University Model UN Conference. Cinly is an officer for Boston Latin's Asian Students in Action club, where she serves as intermediary between club officers and members, and assists in hosting school-wide events celebrating Asian identities. She is committed to 'Beyond Resolved', a student-led organization that advocates for creating a safe space for marginalized groups in high school debate by raising awareness on often overlooked disparities. She has also taken classes on criminal justice and gender studies at her local urban college. Cinly envisions herself in the field of humanities, studying the intersectionality of children's human rights and American international policy.
